William Bradley Pitt was born in 1963 in Oklahoma. The family moved to Springfield, Missouri, where Brad attended high school. He studied at the University of Missouri, but didn't finish the school and went to California with only 375 dollars in his pocket. He took several odd jobs to earn a little money to pay for acting lessons. He then appeared in a few television shows and quickly found his way to the movie screen. Today, he is one of the most successful American movie stars.

He lives with the actress Angelina Jolie and their three children.
